Parkville Artisan's Studio, located on Main Street in Downtown Parkville for seven years now, has the BEST of handmade art and gifts! They offer tons of hands-on and interactive options such as art parties, lessons, and workshops for all ages!

Parkville Artisan's Studio

Owner/Artist/Instructor Tricia Szasz is a multi-media artist, working with everything from oils to metals to glass and ceramics. She has studied in Europe at the International Ceramics Studio, been appointed Artist in Residence for Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lake Shore, as well as the International Artist's Exchange in Lake Balaton, Hungary. Most recently she has become a regular on the Better KC morning show, where she offers instruction and tips on everything from the arts to the kitchen.

Tricia's Intent

"Every man, woman, and child should be given a room filled with kindness and peace, where no limits reside; where art and expression live loud."

What should people know about Parkville Artisan's Studio?

It is a super welcoming space where you can shop the work of local artists or let your creative beast free in just about any medium: pottery wheels, painting, mosaics, stained glass, jewelry making, and so much more!

What does Tricia like the most about owning a business in Downtown Parkville?

The friendly, hometown atmosphere here in Parkville makes for a great business location. The people – clients as well as other business owners really care about this community and it feels more like a team than customers.
